EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Ms. Penny Caudle on 3/5/07.

Following claims has been amended as follows:

1. A method for controlling access to an access protected unit, the method comprising:
reading at least one pair of absolute coordinates from an encoded base;
checking if the pair of coordinates are within a coordinate area belonging to an authorized user; and granting access by the authorized user to the access protected unit if the coordinates are within the coordinate area belonging to the authorized user, otherwise denying access; and wherein reading at least one pair of absolute coordinates from an encoded based includes recording a pattern from the base with a digital pen, and converting the recorded pattern into a pair of coordinates.

2. (Canceled).

11. A system for controlling a user's access to an access protected unit, comprising:
a user unit for reading at least one pair of absolute coordinates; and a checking device which determines whether the at least one pair of coordinates are associated with at least one coordinate area belonging to an authorized user for authorizing access to the access-protected unit, and providing an enabling signal to the access protected unit when the checking device determines that access is authorized, wherein the user unit is further operable to read a sequence of coordinate pairs which describe displacement of the user unit when a user is writing with the user unit.

Art Unit: 2135

14. (Canceled).

15. The system of claim ~~14~~ 11 wherein the checking device is operable to compare the sequence of coordinate pairs with a stored sequence of coordinate pairs and, on the basis of a favorable comparison, to provide an enabling signal to the access protected unit.

30. A checking device for checking a user's access to an access protected unit, the checking device comprising:

memory for storing information about at least one coordinate area; and a processor operative to:

receive at least one pair of absolute coordinates;

determine whether the at least one pair of coordinates are associated with the stored information for authorizing access to the access-protected unit;

provide an enabling signal to the access-protected unit if the processor determines that access is authorized; read an identification code from a digital pen;

check if the identification code from the digital pen corresponds to an authorized identification code; and grant access by the user to the access protected unit if the identification code from the digital pen corresponds to the authorized identification code.

42. (Canceled).

Art Unit: 2135

43. A computer-readable medium containing instructions for controlling access to an access protected unit, the instructions comprising:

reading at least one pair of absolute coordinates from a base;

checking if the pair of coordinates are within a coordinate area belonging to an authorized user; and granting access by the authorized user to the access protected unit if the coordinates are within the coordinate area belonging to the authorized user, otherwise denying access; and wherein reading the at least one pair of coordinates includes recording a pattern from the base with a digital pen, and converting the pattern into a pair of coordinates.

44. (Canceled)

59. A base for controlling access to an access protected unit; comprising:

a substrate;

a writing field associated with the substrate; and a position coding pattern associated with the writing field, wherein the position coding pattern encodes at least one pair of absolute coordinate positions used to grant access authorization, whereby the position coding pattern is read during an unformatted displacement of a user unit over the writing field, and wherein the user unit is configured to convert the position coding pattern to the at least one pair of coordinates.

60. (Canceled)

61. The base according to claim ~~60~~ 59, wherein the user unit is configured to read a sequence of coordinate pairs describing the displacement of the user unit, and further wherein the sequence of coordinate pairs are compared to a stored sequence of coordinate pairs for granting access authorization.

71. (New) The method according to claim 65, further comprising:
checking if the pair of coordinates are within a coordinate area belonging to an authorized user.
